Details

Set in the quaint town of Bakewell, famous for the invention of the Bakewell pudding, you will find Peak District Cottage. A family home until as recently as 2021, this 19th century beauty has been lovingly maintained, restored, and improved over the years by the owners. The décor of this traditional homestead is a seamless blend of the old and the new, creating an air that is at once homely and contemporary. The rooms feature modern furniture and fixtures, while more traditional elements include, timber framing, and exposed stone walls. All mod cons are provided, while the outdoor spaces make for a delightful setting, whatever the season. Whether you're having a tippie on the patio, cooking up a storm on the BBQ, or playing games on the lawn, you certainly won't be bored. And should you wish to venture out, the surrounding area just so happens to have access to some of the Peak District's most glorious walking trails. Just remember to bring your hiking boots!
